UNTRAMMELED INVESTIGATION

Judge Hughes wants a clear field for his aviation investigation. He should have it. The people will have no confidence in the investigation if he is interfered with. But first of all, he doesn't want any politician pestering him with suggestions. Wherever party politics shows its dirty hand there is sure to be trouble. If there is an aviation situation that is at all ugly, we may be sure it began with politics, by men who sought through bosses to obtain pulls. It is to be hoped if Judge Hughes finds any such men tempering with the aviation situation, their names will be given. It is a pity these profiteers could not be apprehended and sent to the Dry Tortugas. But we must wait and see. Maybe there are none. We hope there are not.

2. ### IRVIN S. COBB

Says We'll Win—Landed in New York June 9 Fresh From the Western Front.

With the dust of battle-scarred Picardy still faintly visible on his khaki uniform and the little identification tag still dangling from his wrist, Irvin S. Cobb, author, traveler and war correspondent, has returned from the western front with a message that our boys are of indomitable spirit and feel sure of victory. This remarkable spirit, said he, not only assures a glorious triumph for the Allies, but Allied leaders declare it will undoubtedly achieve a quicker end.

"The most moving spectacle that I have witnessed on the European battle fields," said Mr. Cobb yesterday, "is the unbounded enthusiasm of our men going to the fighting lines. Their virile freshening breath has penetrated to Tommy and Poilu, so that the Allied forces of today are steeled with a courage and will that is deathless. Always our fellows are smiling. They smile when they enter the trenches, they smile when they charge and when they return for rest from the heat of battle, still they smile. Never do they complain, but always are they eager to be unleashed for the

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak."

I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught." Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c. a package—One cent a dose. fray. Their officers complain only of their over-anxiety to get into the fight. Their dash and enthusiasm has startled the wearied French and British into a renewed liveliness, and they know they will win."

U. S. Airmen Play Big Part

Mr. Cobb predicted that open warfare, brought about by the present German offensive, would continue till the end of the war, adding that it was the opinion of many generals that the big victorious smash must come from flexible maneuvering of huge armies over great stretches of territory. Our airmen, he said, are playing a greater part in the present battle than is generally supposed. They are fighting on all the fronts in large numbers, and in daring and dash are unsurpassed.

"The Boche," he said, "entertains the greatest dread of our aviators. They have had a taste of the American abandon and utter fearlessness. They understand that the American aviator will never fly from a German."

"The Americans, however," said Mr. Cobb, "were still lusting French machines for combat. 'It must not be imagined,' he said, 'that the German morale has collapsed. I had an opportunity to observe some of the prisoners recently taken at Chateau-Thierry, where so much fighting is now going on, and I find that though the Bavarians and Saxons are heartily sick of war, the Prussian is arrogant and still maintains an I-am-in-it attitude. The Germans will undoubtedly fight on as long as their government wants them to. There will be no collapse from within, and it is generally believed that the war can only be closed with a military victory.

German Prisoners Mere Boys

"I find, too, that the German soldiers now being captured are usually very young, ranging about 18 years old—mere kids, some of them. The mere mention of the Kaiser sends these youngsters into hysterics. A surgeon in a base hospital while operating on one of these little fellows casually said something about 'Deutschland über Alles.' The little Saxon glanced at the doctor and sulkily uttered: 'When you mention that I feel like cutting the Kaiser's throat.' 'The German prisoners all feel that they are about to be shot when they are captured, and shuffle through the rear lines with their arms anxiously raised to their faces, fearful of a clandestine shot. The Tommies, as a rule, hand the Boche a cigarette, usually saluting the Hun with: 'Come on, carry on, you big stiff.'"

$250,000

For Training Camp Activities Fund—Money to Be Used in Building More Houses For Delinquent Girls.

President Wilson has set aside $250,000 from his $100,000,000 War Emergency Fund for the use of the Commission on Training Camp Activities in establishing additional reformatory facilities and houses of detention for delinquent girls and women found near military camps. The money will be spent in the South where a majority of the camps are located, and it is planned to aid several existing state reformatories by building new cottages which will accommodate thirty or sixty occupants. Each state will be required to share the expenses of construction by appropriating a sum equal to its allotment and agreeing to complete the reformatory within one year.

A special committee to disburse the fund now being organized by chairman Fosdick of the commission, includes among its members Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of the Secretary of War.
